

SCRIPT

- A) You play as Average Joe who is an ordinary human who has been teleported to this dreamlike world for unknown reasons. Your goal is to get to the Portal in the top left.
- B) You meet Peanut (a character created by sketchy penguin). He does not talk at first, and just copies all your actions. The more you get to know him, you can give him simple commands such as shoot the gun, or attack! You can not take his gun, but he can help you take down the evil food people.
- C) A ladder that you can climb up to the wall. You can also use this ladder as a sort of shield, or use it to charge into the evil food people and knock them down.
- D) On the top of the wall you see a bow and arrow, but the moment you grab it, the Chicken Nugget people with spears kill you. To get it simply use the ladder to slide the bow down to you without getting injured. You can then use the Bow to shoot the Chicken Nugget People
- E) These are 3 evil chicken nugget people that each have a spear that they can throw. Use a peanut, ladder, or your bow and arrow to take them down.
- F) The EVIL HAMBURGER MAN who can only be killed by Peanut. Just give Peanut the order and he will take care of him. (If you try talking to any of the food people they will only say KILL!!!!!!)
- G) You have made it to the portal and jump through, what meets you on the other side is the next one page pcg you play....

WHATS NEXT?

Here are some options for how to continue this game

- Make a sequel game using these characters and you have to fight more evil food people, and discover what is creating them.
- Play another one page PCG such as "The Crystal Pyramid".
- Just throw your player into another random PCG, and try to add a story to connect the two games.
