Introduction: you wake up in a random cell in selt prison on the planet Totan in the Shogon sector of the PCG universe. You were imprisoned, because you stole a farmer's chicken. You must now escape so you can apologize. Your name is Jerry.

- A) You
- B) Your cell is locked, and the key is at (D)
- C) A character named Bullnose, and you can talk to him through the wall. He is very sad due to him being framed and put into here. If you convince him that you will work with him to get out he will help you. He will use his drill to dig into your cell, and then you can dig into cell (D), but you can not dig anywhere else, because its made of too strong of materials.
- D) The moment you enter this cell, you and Bullnose must work together to take down the two dudes with the guns, so you can hide behind Bullnose because he is bulletproof, and then you can jump on them.
- E) There is a trash can with rotten eggs in it which you can add to your inventory.
- F) Is a key you can use to open (H)

G) Is a janitor named Karen who will try to stop you using her Karen ways. (This part of the PCG master can make up what she does.)

H) Once you open this door, then you will have to take the guard by surprise and charge him right away!

FIN!

What Next?

- If you want to continue this game you can do a series of things to continue it.
- Make another 1 page PCG where he has to escape the rest of the prison
- Make a full PCG where he has to apologize to the guy he stole the chicken from, or maybe help Bullnose with his conflicts.
