Introduction: You play as John. You wake up, and open your door to go outside, but all of a sudden the door shuts, and you are trapped within this new reality. You must escape to get back to earth.

Pg#1: You are on the bottom left of the screen, and there are two objects to your right. The two objects are bread and jam, you can later combine these two items to make a jam sandwich which you will need later on.

- The strange square with a big X on it is a trapdoor that will open later revealing the key you need to escape, but it will only open once you have flicked the 3 levers in the other rooms.
- DOOR: No matter what you try the door will not open, and you need a special key to open it.
- The doors labeled 1,2, and 3 lead to separate rooms that you can go into.
 - DOOR 1: leads to screen 2
 - DOOR 2:leads to screen 3
 - DOOR 3:leads to screen 4

Pg#2: In this room you meet Arx the Varx who you can talk to. You must get the wand that is right next to him that will help you later on,(if you try to use the wand it does not work) but you must talk to him to try to convince him to give it to you, such as possibly trading some of the posters from previous screens to him. Also make sure to flick the lever too.

Pg#3: In this room you meet the Arcmage who is very sad because he lost his wand. If you give him his wand he will let you flick the lever, and then you can move on. At first he will be hostile, but the moment he sees the wand he will do anything to get it!

Pg#4: On this page you meet Pinchzoid Crabicus who is a giant crab. He is extremely hungry, and you can give him your jam sandwich, and he will let you pass, but it must be in sandwich form!!!
