

After 1,000 years of torturing anti-clodin groups on Shi, and after knocking out the Balzak Globation crew, Zoovac returns to earth as his old self, but has he really left his old self?

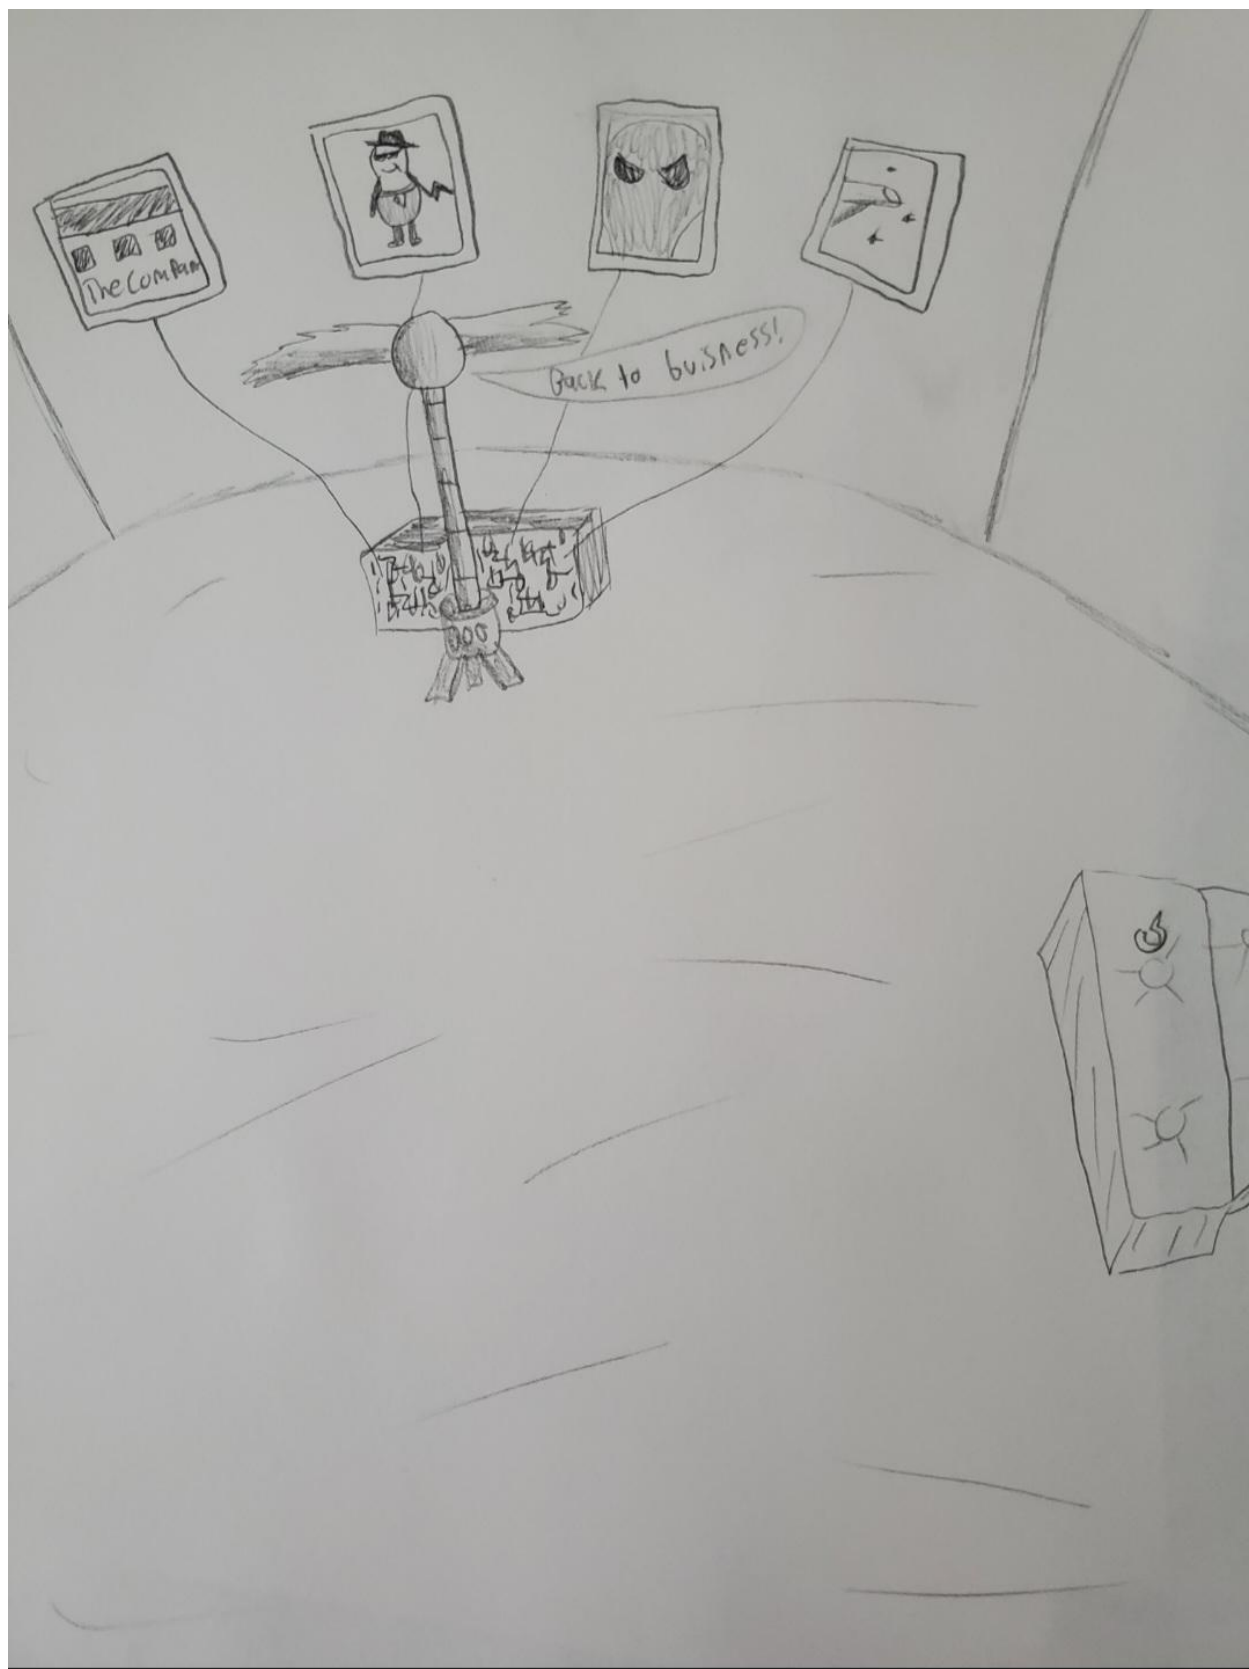

Note: This game is not really playable at all, and more of a PCG comic, so here is the story of the game for you to read.

Zoovac's Remorse was a 2023 PCG by Epic Worlds PCG. This game takes place during Balzak Globotron by Xaq, specifically the part when they turn Zoovac back into his normal self and drop him off at Earth.

A thousand years of torturing and being the very evil that Zoovac was first created to be, haunts him as he returns to Earth. Upon arrival, Zoovac is taunted, shamed, and attacked for the thousand years he served torturing people on the planet Shri. Zoovac starts to get depressed, and even have flashbacks of his evil. He tries to cope, but he turns to depression. Xaq and Chris (Who Zoovac does not really recognize, but has a strange connection with) find Zoovac and cheer him up. Xaq offers to get rid of Zoovac's evil memories that haunt him. Zoovac agrees, and Xaq removes his memories of torturing from Shri. Zoovac feels much better and is now determined to make a difference and show the world that he has changed for the better! Zoovac sets up his lab and makes it his life's goal to take down the very evil that turned him against the good.
