Overview

Sonic Fighters is a two player fighting game. The players control either Sonic or Shadow, and they take turns making a move.

They make a move by clicking one of the moves on the Control Board. Each move has a number on it (for example, -5). That number is how much damage it does to the other character.

So if Sonic does a move that deals 5 damage, pull Shadow's health bar to the right by five points. (The health bar is the yellow bar above the character. To do this, you'll have to cut it out with a scissor before playing so you can move it back and forth).

The stars on the moves on the control board will give you a superpower if you use that move three times.
