

Ginkus the Useless

In this game, Ginkus the “all powerful” must complete his hardest task to date: getting out of bed.

You are incredibly weak, klutzy, and inept. If the player tries to move really at all, Ginkus will collapse back in bed. The roller skae, the ball, and the jacks at the foot of the bed literally trip him up. Ginkus can try to use his staff of power, but it’s useless; trying will eject him out the window and onto a hidden trampoline, which then shoots him back into bed.

The only way to get out of bed, and thereby beat the game, is to find your phone stupidly hidden in a book above the bed to call The Fat Guy to come help you out. That’s right, The Fat Guy is more mobile than Ginkus.
