Rules for Paper Pokémon

Catching Pokémon

When in the wild, turn to the Pokémon page. Spin a coin randomly on the chart of Pokémon. Wherever it lands, pick up the coin and the Pokémon in the center is who you encounter (Excluding legendary Pokémon). Now you have a chance to capture it (See capture page). Once you have Pokémon, you can battle.

Battling When battling you each can have a team of up to 6 Pokémon. All Pokémon have an attack and a certain amount of HP. Flip a coin for who attacks first, then take turns using attacks. You may switch out Pokémon at anytime but once it's HP is zero it cannot be used and once you have no Pokémon with HP the game is over.

Training

Each time you encounter a Pokémon in the wild, you can choose to battle it instead of catching it. After a battle your Pokémon's level increases by 1. Each time a Pokémon's level increases add 1 damage to its attack and 1 HP to its overall HP. If you win a battle you gain 50PC and if you win a battle against another player you gain 15PC.

Evolving

Evolving is simple, if your Pokémon evolves simply have it change forms at level 5 for the first evolution, level 15 for the second, and Level 30 for the last. If your Pokémon only has 1 evolution than have it evolve at level 30. When a Pokémon evolves, add 10 damage to it's attack and 10 HP to it's overall HP.

Legendaries

If you search for a legendary spin a coin randomly on the legendary portion of the Pokémon list. The Pokémon under the center of the coin is who you encounter. All Legendary Pokemon Are Level 50

Pokémon Capture

Poké Ball

Flip two coins into the center circle, if they both land heads and in the center you caught it.

Master Ball

Flip a coin, if it lands anywhere on either circle you caught it.

Great Ball

Flip two coins into the center circle. If they both land on the same side you caught it.

Ultra Ball

Flip a coin into the center, if it lands heads, you caught it.

*Once you catch a Pokémon, it's level is automatically the average of all the levels on your team minus 5.

*If you fail to catch a Pokémon after three ball attempts, it will run away.
