Introduction: You started off as a miserable fig living a miserable life, when all of a sudden some strange oil consumes your soul, and now all you want to do is KILL FIGS! You also figure out that because of the oil, you have special powers, like the ability to move objects.

Pg#1: Is just the intro comic scene, so you can't do anything here.

Pg#2: You see a strange pikachu that just stares at you, and he is blocking your way, so you can use your powers to move him away so he does not block the bridge. Then the oil starts to kick in, and all you want to do is kill those figs below the platform. To kill them use your powers to move the weight and drop it on them....you feel stronger!!

Pg#3: You see a huge pool of oil, and you are drawn to it. You see a strange creature that will only stare at you, and there is a fig that you barely recognize as a fig you used to know, but he is in your path so he must go!!! Then you will be drawn to the portal where you can go to the next game!
