Intro: You play as John who has just entered his house, only he accidentally entered the wrong door!

Pg#1: You start on the top middle of the screen. You can slide down the walls to the first room where you will meet a moleman receptionist?!?! You can ask it for anything, but it will do the exact opposite of what you tell it to do. If you go deeper into the tunnel you find a spider who has become mutated due to this strange sludge that is coming out of a nearby pipe. It will try to kill you, so you must use the receptionist to help you defeat it. You can climb on the top of the tunnel to get to the ladder which will lead up to some mercado coins and a jar of super strength liquid. You can use the super strength liquid to mine down to the driller and once you do that you have won the game!

Feel free to make sequels or expand on this game in any way you like :)
