Intro: In this game you play as Sal the ice cube. You have the ability to turn into water, ice, or vapor. You have just escaped the fridge and are on the counter ready to explore the rest of this kitchen.

Pg#1: You start on the counter, and you can use your 3 stages of matter to move. You can easily slide down the pipe that leads to the floor. To the left of the screen is Butter Boy who is surrounded by lava! You can turn into water vapor and then use your ice form to turn into a hand to push Butter Boy off of the dangerous platform. Butter boy is weak, but very useful later on. At the bottom left of the screen is a staff that allows you to grow legs! To the right of the screen is a keyhole that you can open by finding the key behind the fig poster. The key opens and you enter room 2.

Pg#2: On this page you meet Zake the mech who will give you a new key to open the door in front of you, but first you must trade him something. You can trade him your staff. Next you see a small fisherman named Hasheesh. Hasheesh is very upset because he does not have any bate, he will give you the key only if you give him bate. You can offer Butter Boy to be his bate and then you can move on to the final room. In the final room are two big aliens that you have to take down. When you take them down you can then access The Moverator which is basically like a little electric scooter that you can use in future games.
