Very basic script, for more information, watch this Video or message Epic Worlds PCG on Discord.

Page #1: John is walking in his neighborhood one day when suddenly a strange beam teleports him to page #2. The player can not do anything on this screen.

Page #2: On this screen, John meets Elgador, the giant floating head, Elgador says to John, "Welcome to my arena! I have watched you for many days and can see that you seek much power. If you survive my arena, you shall gain all the power you deserve." If the player accepts, then they are dropped into screen 3. If the player refuses, they are dropped into the arena anyways.

Page #3: John looks up and sees a giant serpent. Controlling the serpent is a dark knight. Both characters will try to attack the player. In order to defeat this duo, the player must jump off the rock, and attack one of the creatures. Each creature can not survive without the other. (Elgador gave John a bow and arrows to use in the arena)
In the distance John sees a small castle, if he goes inside it then go to page #4.

Page #4: John sees The Arcmage! The Arcmage will use any of his many spells to try to defeat John. The first one he uses rips chunks of rock from the floor. The Arcmage is about to throw them at the player. In order to defeat The Arcmage, the player must jump on the moving rocks as they are shooting toward him. The player can then take The Arcmage by surprise and shoot him.

Page #5: The player explores more and finds a strange stairway going up towards something glowing. The Fat Guy is in the way, so the player must logically use the plank of wood to pry The Fat Guy out of the way.

Page #6: John meets Elgador yet again for the final test. Elgador says, "Kill Zoovac, and you shall have all the power you desire!" If the player decides to kill Zoovac with the rocket launcher, then Elgador says, "You have failed the test! I wanted to see if you were good at heart, but now I see you were as evil as I used to be."
If the player does not kill Zoovac, then Elgador gives the player much power, and the game ends.
